

Information to be stored in a National Repository with Unique Identifiers

Background layer can be selected:

Presently the layers available are the geological map of Australia or the Google satellite or map image

